Advanced Academy For Future Teachers

8:00-1:30 Weekdays

June 8—26, 2009

On the campus of Georgia State University

Help us identify and develop tomorrow's great teachers

Our goal is to inspire rising high school juniors and seniors to become urban educators — especially in the fields of math and science.

AAFT develops teaching, leadership, and communication skills for K-5 and 6-12 future educators while it encourages self-reflection and goal setting.

Students experience life on campus while they collaborate with university faculty and master teachers as they strengthen their critical math and science skills.

Participants receive:

- A $200 stipend
- A Marta card or parking space
- Lunch stipend
- Tee shirt
- Field Trip
